THE ENAMINATION IN THE POLICE

When the prisoner reached the Police

He was gaurded, however, by a number of stalwart policemen, and no show of cleared as soon as the case was called,

ANOTHER NEGRO FIEND.

Attempted Criminal Assault Near

Williamsburg-Escaped. WILLIAMSBURG, VA., July 16.-(Special) cial.)—Our community was somewhat startled this morning upon hearing that an attempt at assault by a negro named an attempt at assault by a negro named Winson had been made during the night unon one of the daughters of Mr. James Gilliam, who lately removed on the Chase farm, near here, from Michigan. The facts, as near as can be gotten, ate these: About 2 o'clock this morning a negro, who was afterwards recognized, and who is employed on the farm, entered the up-stairs room of Mr. Gilliam's residence by means of a ladder, where his two daughters were sleeping, and one was awakened by having her person touched by the hands of this man, and unon an outcry being made the negro escaned from the house. Mr. Gilliam being alarmed at the outcry, came to the rescue of his children, who had recognized their assailant, and who informed their father of the manner in which he had escaped from the room. The father immediately ran to the house occupied by the negro and found the man's shoes. He remained by them, and in a few moments the negro came back, and Mr. Gilliam thrust in his face a pistol, which, however, was not loaded. Mr. Gilliam carried his prisoner into his dwelling, where he was recognized again by the girls, and where he confessed his attempt. Mr. Gilliam sent for some neighbors, who shortly arrived. One of them came to Williamsburg for some advice, and the other remained. Mr. Gilliam, who was barefooted, left the prisoner in the room in charge of the neighbor, while he retired to his room to dress and nut on his shoes, During his absence the prisoner made a break for liberty and Winson had been made during the nigh blenty in the house, it turned out that there was no ammunition on the premises. This fellow, if caught, will in all probability be turned over to the York county authorities to be dealt with.

Posters are up all over the city and neighboring counties offering a reward for the apprehension of the negro. He is about 25 years of age, tall, slim, exceedingly narrow in the face, peaked head, with hair cut unusually short, and is quite black.
